LET'S HAVE THE TRUTH

The snafu about enemy atrocities has not been improved by recent official statements. Three weeks have passed since Col. James M. Hanley, chief of the war crimes section of the Eighth Army in Korea, announced there had been 5,790 such atrocities. What has happened since has merely added to the confusion.

Three days after Hanley's statement, General Ridgway was smoked out. He said cautiously that there was considerable evidence—but no conclusive proof—that more than 6,000 such atrocities had occurred. Another three days passed, and Ridgway rebuked Hanley for releasing the original report.

Finally, a public which obviously was supposed to be kept in a state of confusion, learned that Ridgway, two days before the first Hanley announcement was made, had reported to the United Nations that there had been 8,000 enemy atrocities.

The public is entitled to know the truth. But in this confusion of tongues, who knows what the truth is? Presumably General Ridgway obtained his figures from Colonel Hanley. Why, then, did he offer two different estimates?

FUZZY THINKING

A Mexican named Agapita Gallegos split the United States Supreme Court into fragments the other day. Six of the eight justices who took part in the case said his manslaughter conviction by a Nebraska court should stand. Two said it shouldn't—and implied heatedly that this was an American version of the Vogler trial. Two of the majority wrote a separate opinion attacking the minority view.

It's not especially remarkable when the present Supreme Court divides on a case before it. But the court had only to decide whether Gallegos had been convicted largely on a confession obtained from him during "illegal" detention. It is the sort of technicality lawyers quibble about.

Gallegos was arrested in El Paso, Tex., on request of immigration authorities. He gave police a statement which led to the finding of the body of his common law wife on a farm near Minutane, Neb. Taken to Scotts Bluff County, he was tried and convicted. He appealed—not on the ground that he was innocent, but that he was not arraigned promptly on arrest and that 27 days went by before the court named an attorney to defend him.

Justice Reed's majority decision said a study of the whole case that Nebraska had not violated standards of decency or justice. But Justice Black, with Justice Douglas joining him, pointed out that Gallegos could neither speak nor understand English and declared that the Constitution had been violated.

Apparently, if the court had followed the reasoning of Justices Black and Douglas, a precedent would have been established that a murderer who cannot speak or read the English language deserves clemency.

Present 'Gov't Corruption' Charges Began in Year '47

tely large, his profits were overstated. He denied possession or use of "inside" information.

Another high official involved in the speculation expose was Senate Agriculture Committee Chairman Elmer Thomas (D) Utah. He admitted that while he held his strategic Senate post he and his wife were active in the cotton market. Thomas was later defeated in his attempt to return to the Senate.

The speculation inquiry made black headlines at the time, but it was merely setting the stage for the acts to come.

The big show began in 1949 with the exposure of Washington's influence—peddling "five-percenters" and their operations in high officialdom.

A Washington show has seldom had as colorful a cast as had the "five-percenter" hearings. It was headed by portly, be-medalled Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, President Truman's military aide, and hand-shaking, fast-talking John Maragon, the ex-bootblack from Kansas City who "knew everybody" and had easy access to the White House.

Even the props were colorful—a half-dozen food freezers, some smuggled perfume, molasses and materials to build one race track. But entertainment was not the only thing the "five-percenter" investigation provided. It put flesh on the skeleton of "corruption in government" charges that were already beginning to take shape.

said property will be called to attention of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which has charge of same. Council had, last month, requested the sales agents to take protective measures, the building being claimed a hazzard by the local governing body.

In another communication, councilmen were told by J. E. Fricke Co.

representatives that improvements are to be made soon to a coal bin which abuts the thoroughfare at the corner of Hulme street and Neshaminy Creek bridge.

Approval having been given by the borough solicitor, Lawrence Monroe, to plan for codification of borough ordinances, arrangements are to be made to discuss the matter with Penn Valley Publishing Co. in February.

Resignation of Mrs. Thomas Wheeler as caretaker of the town hall was received.

Arrangements were made to order a "stop" sign for the exit from Estill Alley as one-way thoroughfare, with entrance from Hulme street. Discussion took place regarding ordering of other highway signs, and possibility of securing speed limit signs.

The highway committee was requested to check condition of Washington avenue, near Ford, some holes being reported. Another complaint received was to the effect that water drainage ditch on Webster avenue, dug at instruction of council, had been partially filled in, drainage thus being hampered.

Bill was received from Kaufman Brothers for building of Water street and Estill Alley, this and other repairs totalling $2,015.60.

Treasurer, Miss Grace H. Illick, gave her report as follows: Balance in general fund, $3,173.27; balance in sinking fund, $5,597.74; highway aid account, $805.05.

Bills ordered paid were as follows: Ernest Maret, police duty, $19; Christmas tree, $5; Mrs. Thomas Wheeler, service as caretaker, $25; Miss Grace H. Illick, salary, $75, and postage, $4; Mrs. Edward Black, salary, $100, and postage, etc., $5.50; Ferdinand Reetz, trash and garbage collections, $40; Lawrence Monroe, Esq., retainer's fee, $50; Kaufman Bros., $2,015.60; Phila Electric Co., current, $99.77; Maryland Casualty Co., constable's bond, $10; Government Consulting Service, preparation for setting up zoning code, $173.24.

Chief of Police Ernest Maret submitted his report as follows: "stop" sign violations, six; passing on hill, one; reckless driving, one; learner not accompanied by licensed driver, one (car owner fined); highway signs turned wrong way, two; complaints received regarding double parking on Water street.

President Bilger informed that the Christmas tree has been ordered for Memorial Park and will soon be erected.

Reorganization meeting date is January 7th.

Other councilmen present were: Harry Beck, Edward Vansant, George Foerst, and Orville Morris.

Electricity is Still the Lowest Priced Necessity in the Family Budget

IMAGINE the disappointment for all the children in the house if there were not enough electricity to go 'round at Christmastime!

Added demands at this joyful season—for lighting the shopping centers, for Christmas tree decorations at home and in the public squares, for more power needed by railroads and streetcars and subways to move the crowds—all call for extra amounts of electricity.

Philadelphia Electric's advance planning and building in advance of the need have provided for every foreseeable contingency, including these additional holiday demands.

Future Christmases, too, will be cared for so long as we can continue to expand and develop our facilities . . . so long as we can have the materials we need, and can work without restriction.

The board voted to make two payments for teachers' salaries on one check, due to the holiday season.

David Hertzler, high school principal, told the board the fall sports program had closed and was a success.

"In hockey, an inexperienced squad worked hard under Miss

Yerkes' coaching without a let-up during the entire season. In football, the winning of our Lower Bucks County League trophy along with good relationships with our pupils and coaches and good sportsmanship shown on the part of our student body, are all commendable factors. Financially, we fared better than anticipated, both because of the attendance at the games and the good management of Mr. Bloom and the coaches in handling our equipment.

British Girl and Bristolian Are Wed on "TV" Program

A young woman who arrived in this country from England on November 19th was wed to a U. S. Air Force sergeant during a television show in New York, N. Y., yesterday, at 2:45 p. m.

The "television" bride is Miss Phyllis Parkinson, of Ramsgate, England. She became the bride of Sgt. Robert M. Young, of Long Beach, Cal., on the "bride and groom" program, the ceremony taking place in a "T. V." studio in the R. C. A. building, New York.

The white bridal gown and veil were provided by the sponsors of the television show; as was also the honeymoon trip. The journey, usually one of five days, was a "surprise," details of the trip not being revealed until yesterday.

The brown-haired young woman, slender and 5' 6" tall, had not finished marvelling at the "lights and food" in America, when she began to make final plans for the ceremony which was televised.

She has been the house guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mitchell, of 560 Court B, Bristol Terrace II, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Parkinson, of Ramsgate, located on England's southeast coast, she met Sgt. Young when he was stationed at Manston, near Ramsgate.

Attending the couple were the bride's cousin, Mr. Charles Mitchell, of 751 Court D, Bristol Terrace II, and his wife.

Sgt. Young has an extended furlough, and the couple will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mitchell for a few days following the honeymoon trip, then will go to Georgia, Sgt. Young being stationed at Turner Field, at Albany, that state.

Miss Joanne B. Gallagher, Newtown, third vice president of Bucks County Federation, introduced Mrs. E. Wilmer Fisher, Morrisville, president of the federation.

$85 and 129 as units of three or more bedrooms at $95.

Of those built for sale, 620 will be planned as two-bedroom units to sell for a maximum of $10,500 and 380 to sell for a top price of $11,500.

Of the totals, at least 375 units will be required for Negroes and members of other minority groups. Kirk said. These are expected to include 90 one-bedroom units to rent for a maximum of $65 a month; 120 two-bedroom units at $75 and 15 larger units at $85. Units to be sold will include 100 two-bedroom dwellings at $9,500 or less and 50 larger units to sell for $10,500.

Applications from builders will be judged largely on the basis of these factors: The nearness of the home sites to defense plants; rents or sale prices; size of units and the builder's ability to carry out the undertaking.

1. Road Test a Mercury for Proof of Performance

This is a story about a car. Its name is Mercury. It is a beautiful car, and it is very very popular.

It has a powerful prize winner of an engine, a V-8 high-compression engine — the better to take you up hills. It has a very low center of gravity — the better to take you around curves. It has a big staunch frame, wide tires, new-type spring suspension, supersafety brakes — the better to make you happy behind the wheel.

One day you will drive this beautiful and popular car. You will also see how nicely it fits your budget. Then you will know the moral of the Mercury story: It is, in all ways, "the buy of your life."

Standard equipment, accessories, and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

Sweetest Money-saver Ever Sold

Will you be sure of good gasoline mileage? Mercury has proved its more-miles-per-gallon by winning officially-sponsored economy tests.

Is it famous for long life? It is indeed! 92% of all Mercurys ever built for use in the U. S. are still on the road, according to the latest official annual registration figures.

Will upkeep stay low? You save money year after year. Mercury's famous stammina keeps repair bills at a rock-bottom low.

Does it represent solid value? Mercury owners say YES! So will you when you get the rest of the story. Drop in today and see.

Neshaminy School To Get Steel

The building committee of the Neshaminy Joint School Board, announced that the steel for the new building held last night at his home, 400 Bellevue avenue, Penndel. Fetters said he was advised of the Federal Security Agency's action in a telegram from Senator James H. Duff (R., Pa.). Under a "Green 1-1 priority," Duff wired, 120 tons of steel will be made available for the school building during the first quarter of 1952.

"This will enable us to enter into an agreement with a general contractor," Fetters said. "The school board will advertise for bids shortly after Jan. 1 and we should be ready to break ground by early spring."

Architects for the school are Beringer, Haag and d'Entremont, of Jenkintown. Fetters said, detail drawings were nearly completed. He emphasized that specifications be altered, if necessary, to keep the cost of the school within their own capacity.

When the new building is completed, he said, the old Neshaminy high school building on Maple avenue in Langhorne will be used for elementary classes. Grade schools in the district are overcrowded, he said, and some schools have been forced to hold classes in basement rooms.

Wm. A. Tryon will sell anything that's saleable and rent anything that's rentable.

Will Use Violin Over 200 Years Old

preferred by many experts. It has been acclaimed by W. E. Hill and George Hart of London, the world's greatest violin connoisseurs, who issued certificates stating that the Guarnerius is authentic, a remarkable fine example in excellent state of preservation and from the makers' best period.

The Guarnerius boasts a long and impressive lineage, up to the time of its acquisition by Miss Sittig. There are even old letters concerning its ancestry, in which are recorded the buyers and collectors into whose hands it fell, throughout its career of distinction.

Long ago, in Italy, it was sold to Tarsio, the famous collector, who eventually sold it in Paris to J. B. Vuillaume, one of the great violin and bow makers of his time. Later, the Viennese violinist Pollitzer had it, before it came into the possession of George Hart of London.

It was in 1932 that Miss Sittig first became aware of the Guarnerius when she discovered it among the treasured instruments of a New York collector, whose astute discrimination of fine artistry also extended to admiration of Miss Sittig's playing. Perhaps the collector's high opinion of Miss Sittig's talents influenced him in her regard; for when the instrument was put up for sale, it was bought by Miss Sittig in spite of keen competition from dealers and private parties offering much larger sums.

The concert, which is sponsored by the Travel Club for the benefit of its hospital fund, has been planned by a committee of the club with Mrs. John Moyer and Mrs. Albert Dowden as co-chairmen.

Tickets will go on sale tomorrow at Spencer's Furniture store, Mill and Radcliffe streets.

Patrons and patronesses for this affair are: Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Ancker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Brooks, Mrs. A. Russell Burton, Mr. and Mrs. C. William Berghund, Mr. and Mrs. William Boyd, the Rev. and Mrs. Rowland L. Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Colville, Mr. and Mrs. D. Barker Cook, Mr.
